MUSE 1961

Muse originally meant the "mindful ones." In Greek mythology, nine daughters of Jupiter and Mnemosyne were called the muses. They presided over the aesthetic qualities of man, being the source of inspiration of all art. They were of one mind, their hearts set upon song, and their spirits free from care.

FOREWORD

Muse, settle upon our Southwestern Illinois Campus. From your heritage of authority and memory, inspire us in the creation of our new campus at Edwardsville as you affected the establishment of the Alton and East St. Louis Centers. Recall to memory the origin of our existence as we extend our boundaries and aspire toward new horizons.

In 1919 the first residence center of Southern Illinois University was established in Belleville under the auspices of the Graduate School and the Division of University Extension. Limited to an evening program, it offered classes for in-service training of teachers. The second residence center was established in the summer of 1957 on the former Shurtleff College campus in Alton. In September of the same year the third residence center was opened in East St. Louis.

In 1956 the citizens of Madison and St. Clair counties, working through such groups as the Edwardsville Chamber of Commerce and the Southwestern Illinois Council of Higher Education, petitioned SIU to provide local facilities for full-time work. Pressing needs in the fields of engineering, science, technology, business administration, nursing, and education were recognized. The Board of Education of East St. Louis offered the use of the high school building when the new one was finished. About the same time, the Board of Trustees of Shurtleff College of Alton voted to suspend operation of this school and lease the campus and facilities to SIU. Subsequently, the Southwest Illinois Residence Office was established in East St. Louis and Harold W. See, who was directing the work at Belleville, was appointed executive dean. Operations were designed to maintain close cooperation between the residence centers and the parent campus. Enrollment the first term was 1,873.

Today, eight permanent buildings form the nucleus of a 10-acre campus in Alton. Nine buildings are being used as temporary quarters. The East St. Louis Campus occupies two city blocks. The Roethe home, known as the "R" building is being used as office space for faculty. The central administrative offices of the Southwestern Illinois Campus are located at Edwardsville. In the midst of the natural scenic beauty of almost 2600 acres of wooded rolling countryside, the offices of the president; dean; head librarian; registrar; supervisors of industrial and technical education; personnel; auxiliary and service enterprises; data processing; printing and art service; photographic service; purchasing; accounting, and information service are located. The central campus is southwest of Edwardsville on by-pass Highway 66.

NEW HORIZON

The future Southwestern Illinois Campus, which will be located near Edwardsville, is designed to eventually take care of 18,000 students.

ADMINISTRATION

DELYTE W. MORRIS began his career as a high school teacher in Sulphur, Oklahoma, upon graduation from Park College in 1928. Two years later he went to the University of Maine where he taught public speaking and directed forensic activities. Here he met Dorothy Arnold Mayo who became Mrs. Delyte Morris on December 18, 1930. After receiving his M.A. degree from Maine and his Ph.D. from the University of Iowa, he joined the Kansas City (Mo.) Junior College staff as chairman of the speech department. From there he moved to Terre Haute to become chairman of the speech department and director of special education clinics at Indiana State Teachers College. In 1916 he received an offer from Ohio State University to serve as professor of speech and director of its speech and hearing clinic. Mr. Morris became president of SIU in 1948, coincident with the school's change-over from a teachers college to a university. With his leadership has come tremendous physical and academic growth to what is now the country's forty-first largest educational institution.

HAROLD W. SEE

Harold W. See served as first executive dean of the Southwestern Illinois Campus and was vice president from April 1959 to December 1960

DEAN WILLIAM T. GOING

William T. Going came to Southern in 1957 from the University of Alabama as professor of English. He was named dean of SWIC in 1958. Mr. Going did his undergraduate work at the University of Alabama, received his master's degree from Duke University and his doctorate from the University of Michigan.

DEAN MILTON B. BYRD

Milton B. Byrd has been serving as associate dean since July 1960. He was on the Indiana University staff before joining SIU in the fall of 1958. Mr. Byrd received his A.B. and M.A. degrees from Boston University and his Ph.D. from the University of Wisconsin. Mr. Byrd will spend next year at the University of Michigan.

When the centers opened in 1957 there were 35 full-time faculty members with academic rank and 16 part-time members from Carbondale, plus 42 part-time lecturers from sources other than Carbondale. Today the Southwestern Illinois Campus has 155 full-time faculty members with academic rank. While the percentage of Ph.D.'s appointed to the staffs of higher institutions of learning throughout the country has been declining the past few years, 60 per cent of the faculty at SWIC hold the doctor of philosophy degree.

Television as a medium of instruction holds special advantage since the centers, 25 miles apart, can be served by a single program. Lectures and demonstrations are presented through the facilities of educational station KETC, St. Louis.

The Science Division contributes to the general education of all students by offering basic courses in mathematics and the physical and life sciences. The division provides a basic program in applied science and pre-engineering.

Professor William Shaw shows how double duty beaverboard blinds serve as backdrops for charts while providing total darkness in the physics laboratory.

The Evening College staff at East St. Louis: W. Leslie Farrar, chief clerk; Mrs. Joseph Strehle, clerk-stenographer; and Virgil Seymour, supervisor.

Courses are offered almost around the clock. Many persons holding daytime jobs are taking advantage of evening classes to complete college degree requirements. Those interested in furthering their training in business may receive an associate degree by successfully completing the four-year evening program. Also awarded through the Evening College is a secretarial science certificate involving a two-year program.

This is SWIC's first attempt at its own yearbook, so problems have been legion. A serious delay in expediting publication began when Pat Kampen, original editor, found it necessary to withdraw from school at the end of the Fall quarter and a successor could not be named until after the Winter quarter was underway. Despite the difficulties in producing this first edition, we have enjoyed our work and hope you will find our efforts worthwhile.

IN ACTION

Going up for a two pointer is Southwestern's Kenny Junck.

The Southwestern Saluki's posted a record of 8 wins and 12 losses for the 1960-61 season. Leroy Unthank lead the Salukis in the scoring and rebounding departments despite missing several games due to an early season injury.

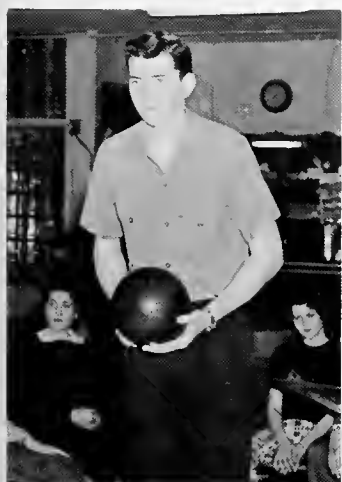

This was the first year the centers of Alton and East St. Louis combined talents to form a single unit. The team played opponents of higher caliber this season than they had in the past. With practically all the boys returning next year, Coach Howard Nesbitt looks to the future with high hope.

Norman E. Showers coaches the golf team, using the Rock Springs Course in Alton. The team fared well for our school, winning eight games, tying one, and losing six.

Although most of the members had not played before, they played hard, with much enthusiasm and spirit, under the coaching of Howard Nesbitt. This was the second year for our varsity team, competing against such schools as McKendree College, Concordia of St. Louis, Concordia of Springfield, Greenville College, Harris Teachers College, and MacMurray.

The 1960 tennis team consisted of:

Terry Durham
Gene Ursprung
Ed Smith
Bob Allen
Roy Graham
Joe Harley
Gary Ballard
Joel Frazer

Leroy Unthank

Frank Ridder

PLAYER OF THE YEAR

The Player of the Year is chosen on the basis of his participation in the intramural sports program. The player is announced at the annual sports banquet and his name is placed on a plaque. Player of the Year for 1958 was Frank Ridder; 1959, Leroy Unthank; 1960, John Reed.

The program of athletics, both intramural and intercollegiate, is considered important to the health and welfare of the entire student body. Although participation in intercollegiate competition is maintained for some sports, the primary emphasis is upon wide participation in the intramural athletic and recreation activities. Students are encouraged to engage in games and sports which will have carry-over value to life after graduation. It is recognized that competition can and should be a powerful incentive toward health, morale, spirit, and leadership in an educational setting.

MEN'S INTRAMURALS

Women's Intramurals is equivalent to the men's program, under the direction of Babette Marks in Alton. It also includes a wide variety of sports, such as hockey, basketball, softball, archery, bowling, and volleyball. The schedule includes contests with such schools as Principia, Greenville College and MacMurray, among others.

With Elliott Rudwick (center facing camera), associate professor in social studies, student leaders attending one-day leadership training conference at Edwardsville's Sunset Hills Country Club discuss relationship of beliefs and attitudes to group norms. The students attending the conference were particularly concerned with the way these beliefs and attitudes may possibly affect students who will be enrolled at future campus near Edwardsville.

REGISTRATION

When the centers opened in the fall of '57, there were 1,837 on hand to enroll. This year's registration figure for the fall term exceeded 4,200. Dorris Wilton (above), assistant registrar, has his office in East St. Louis. The man in the dark suit pictured below during registration is Samuel Stone, assistant registrar at the Alton Campus.

The University provides food service at each campus for the convenience of faculty and students.

There are many opportunities for student employment in the University. Students do clerical work, assist in the bookstore and the cafeteria, and help the maintenance men and the janitorial staff. More than 300 were employed in some kind of part-time work on campus this year.

ORIENTATION

President Morris congratulates Jun Seck Seo, 4000th student to register at SWIC. Former Vice President See looks on.

Are you sure I won't need any more books?

But I already have four classes at ten o'clock.

With this packet registration begins.

Sorry, that class is closed.

Musical highlight of the year was the Southwestern Illinois Chorophonic Society's appearance with the St. Louis Symphony, singing Beethoven's Ninth. Critics praised the choral group's performance and the program, by request, will be repeated next year. The Southwestern singers also appeared with the St. Louis Symphony at Easter in Haydn's Creation.

Music, speech and drama, art—these creative fields make up the Fine Arts Division at SWIC. Student art work may be seen almost anywhere—in the Student Union which features the Art of the Week displays, in Loomis Gallery, in offices on the three campuses—even on the tennis court, where an exhibit is held each year in connection with Spring Festival Week.

1400 citizens meet at Edwardsville for Bond Issue Rally

Edwardsville Welcoming Committee for Marathon runners

SIU supports the Bond Issue

The early days of 1960-61 found students, faculty and citizens interested in advancing higher education in Illinois banded together in an all-out effort to insure passage of the $195-million Universities Bond Issue. Illinois voters said "yes" on November 8, 1960. According to a "gentlemen's agreement," SWIC is to receive $25 million to cover cost of the first planning stage of the new campus at Edwardsville.

Students and staff alike enjoyed the annual Christmas dance. Seated at the President's left is Mrs. Morris, our gracious First Lady. Another good friend of the students is seated third from the left. She is Mrs. Howard Davis, wife of our student affairs director.

Whether it's playing cards or chess, planning the forthcoming dance, or just relaxing, you'll find students making use of the Union. Queenie (below) is Queen of the Alton Student Lounge.

One of the prominent personalities brought to our campus last year was Dr. Ralph Bunche, Undersecretary of the United Nations. In the receiving line with him at the reception which followed were President and Mrs. Morris. Dr. Bunche is shown greeting the Cameron Merediths.

Samuel Lubell, political analyst, was also a guest speaker last year.

Nicholas Joost, acting head of the Humanities Division at SIU's Southwestern Campus, and Dr. Wallace Fowlie, literary critic and author, Fowlie spoke at the Alton and East St. Louis centers January 11 on "Picasso's Paris at the Turn of the Century." Professor of French at Bennington (Vt.) College. Fowlie is currently a Newberry Library Fellow at the University of Chicago.

GRADUATION DAY

It was a proud moment for Southern Illinois University when its Southwestern Campus held its first commencement June 14, 1960, on the Edwardsville site. President Morris conferred the bachelor's degree on 68 candidates; first commencement speaker was Governor William G. Stratton. The exercises were preceded by a tour of the campus and buffet supper and followed by a reception on the lawn of the administrative offices.

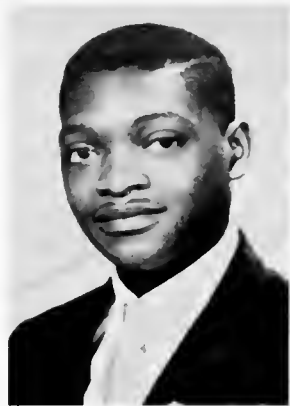

A high-contrast, black and white photograph. On the left, a graduation cap (mortarboard) is shown, featuring a large, light-colored tassel hanging from the top. To the right of the cap is a dark, textured book cover. The text "Southern Illinois University" is printed on the book cover in a light, serif font, oriented diagonally. The background is dark and grainy.

SIC VITA

By Henry King

Like to the falling of a star;
Or as the flights of eagles are;
Or like the fresh spring's gaudy hue;
Or silver drops of morning dew;
Or like a wind that chafes the flood;
Or bubbles which on water stood;
Even such is man, whose borrowed light
Is straight called in, and paid to night.

The wind blows out; the bubble dies;
The spring entombed in autumn lies;
The dew dries up; the star is shot;
The flight is past; and man forgot.

The students of the Alton Campus extend deepest sympathy to the family of Miss Rita Simpson.

With love and respect, the friends of Rita take great pride in the memory of their friendship.

Above the world is stretched the sky
No higher than the soul is high.
